DETAILED ACTION

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 05/27/2009 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 23-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is not clear what the term "it" encompasses as recited in claim 1 (line 2) and claim 26 (line 2). Further, there is no antecedent basis for the term "the superior surface" in the claims 23 and 26.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 23, 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cho (5,622,497) in view of Huffman (5,788,489).

Cho disclose an articulator tray 18 having at least one opening (e.g. 68, figure 3) with repeating wider and narrower regions (fig. 4), the opening having tapered sides and the opening is wider at the superior surface. Cho further disclose the closure means 70 for closing the opening bottom.

Cho fails to disclose the tray having projections extending upward from the superior surface.

Huffman teaches a tray having projection 7 (fig. 2) that extend upward from the superior surface. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify Cho by providing the projections as claimed as taught by Huffman to maintain the proper orientation of the dental model.

Claim 24 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cho in view of Huffman as applied to claim 23 above, and further in view of Kuperman (5,658,143)

Cho/Huffman discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for a tray having both a ball and a socket extending from the tray.

Kuperman teaches a tray 14 having a ball and socket (figure 1) extending from the tray. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify Cho/Huffman by providing ball and a socket connections as taught by Kuperman in order to easily connect and disconnect the tray, thus saves time.

Claims 26-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cho in view of Huffman, and further in view of Kuperman. See the rejection above.
